WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, Aug. 27th, 1904.

Editor Press:—

This is the season of outings, trial trips and commissions for Government employees, on scientific errands, combined with pleasure. There are many things which need investigating during the summer in order that reports may be forcoming for the next session of the Congress. Work must be inspected; reforms must be instituted; information must be collected; and many affairs need regulating. One of the Civil Service Commissioners, Mr. Cooley, is touring the West, making a study of the civil service as applied to Indian schools and reservations. By direction of the President Mr. Carroll D. Wright of the Bureau of Labor is in Colorado, making a study of the civil war in that state. Mr. Gifford Pinchott, the wealthy young man who runs the bureau of forestry in the Department of Agriculture for the love he has for forest trees, is in Oregon, where he has been urging the transfer of supervision of forest reserves from the Land office to his own. He says President Rossevelt's idea is that public lands should be devoted to the best possible use and the object of his trip through the far West is to ascertain what is the best purpose to which lands may be devoted. This, he admits, depends upon the point of view, whether one is a lumberman, a live stock man, a miner or a farmer. Another man will soon be sent west, perhaps into the Black Hills, to discover, if he can, how to fix wireless telegraph instruments to forest trees in such a manner that if the tree catches fire the wireless will make that fact known. The ornithologist, the enthomologist and the botanist, are also searching out the waste places of the land in the interests of science, and for the benefit of mankind.

With the coming of autumn, and the fall of the mercury in the thermometer, there will be the usual activity in scientific circles. Announcement is made, here in Washington, of an early gathering of weather sharps, possibly one hundred in number, who will discuss the art of forcasting and devise ways and means for discovering the secrets of nature. There is much interest just now, in these circles in the remarkable phenomena of the past few weeks—cyclones in St. Louis, Minneapolis, and in Chautauqua county, New York, none of which could be predicted and all of which caused loss of life as well as an immense amount of property. The recent discovery at Cambridge, Mass., of spots on the moon, supposed to be caused by vapor or smoke, as the result of volcanic action, causes considerable speculation. What connection they have with cyclones and thunder showers on this earth is one of those things not yet ascertained. While in convention the weather forecasters will try to determine what problems ought to be studied at the new cobble-stone station now building, not far from Washington, on an eminence called Mt. Weather, in Virginia. It is also announced that they will try to have meteorology added to the list of studies in the colleges and high schools of the country.

World's Fair Excursions.

Low Rate ten-day coach excursions via Pennsylvania Railroad, September 7, 14, 21, and 28. Rate, $15 95 from Emporium. Train leaves Emporium at 8:10 a. m., connecting with special train from New York arriving St. Louis 4:15 p. m., next day.

County Sunday School Convention.

Beginning Monday evening, Sept. 5th at 7.30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church, Emporium, Pa., will be held the annual convention of the Cameron County Sunday School Association. There will be three sessions on Tuesday, Sept. 6th—9:30 a. m., 1:30 and 7:30 p. m. The principal addresses will be given by Mr. Hugh Cork, of Philadelphia and Mr. G. W. Landis, of Ohio. The ability of these speakers is well known and the opportunity to hear them should not be slighted by any one seeking for himself the highest efficiency in Sunday school work. Out of town delegates should report to the commiitee on entertainment at the Baptist Church who will provide homes for them during their stay in town.

The Schools.

As announced last week the schools will open next Monday, Sept. 5. The Principal will be at the High School building on Friday, Sept. 2, from 9 till 12 and from 1 till 4, for the purpose of examining and classifying pupils who have no certificates of admission. Those who failed to take all or a part of the final examinations in the Spring are expected to be present, also those who have moved into the town since the close of school. Persons who have had the use of school books during the Summer should return them at that time.

Everything about the school building will be in ship shape. The High School building has received a coat of paint on the outside woodwork, and the new partition in the high school room is in position, presenting a fine appearance. In the East Ward building a new fire escape has been erected, making it perfectly safe. The lawn has been regraded and various minor improvements made.

The board has created a new school from parts of several others. The name of the new school is to be B Intermediate, the school which previously bore this name, to be known as C Intermediate. Miss McQuay will have charge of the new grade, which will occupy the room occupied last year by Miss Maxwell. The A Intermediate will occupy Miss Barker's last year's quarters and the Junior Grammar will be accommodated in the high school building along with the Senior Grammar.

The following pupils will make up the new B, Intermediate grade:

Mary Burns, Fred Goodyear, Carl Lingle, Howard Pepperman, Francis Robinson, George Smith, Katie Vogt, George Balcom, Margaret Cavey, Mildred Faucett, Helen Fleming, James Fleming, Eugene Goodyear, Jay Gross, Frank Hoffman, Harry Hogan, Clara Hout, Rena Jordan, Gladys Lloyd, Minnie Morse, Katie Murray, Mary Normanly, George Rishell, Earl Specht, Henry Streich, Ethel Turley, Bessie Van Wert, Clara Weisenfluh, Ada Wright, Bertha Wright, Lizzie Zwald, Frank Britton, Mabel Cummings, Phoebe Hackett, Herkimer Jones, Frank Ruberto, Jessie Blair, Pearl Crosby, Anna Nystrom, Marion Baldwin, Nora Grace, Charles Commerford, Neoma Whitmire, Grace Keller, Charles Foster, Ophelia Dodson, Harry Kraft, Grant Husted.

The following pupils go to C Intermediate, West Ward, to Miss Rose Ritchie:

Russell Evans, Carl Hout, Melvin Logan, Samuel Shadman, Pearl Goss, Clarence Twitchell, Eva Burns, Victor Carlson, Margaret Crandell, Grace Ensign, Belle Fountain, Flora Gross, William Howard, Sammy Kline, Robert Leutze, Mary McGrain, Clark Metzger, Fred Metzger, Joseph Miller, Helen Orr, Cecelia Richie, Pompey Scott, Jay Shafer, Charles Spence, Harry Spence, Margaret Streich, Lloyd Swartz, Paul Van Wert, Dawson Wright, Clara Zwald, Irwen Burns, Olive Ellis, Pansy Hout, Budd Lloyd, Florence Lingle, Carolyn Moore, Addie Prosser, Ruth Pearsall, Gertrude Pepperman, Mack Specht, Stella Tebo, Helen Welsh, Dorothy Gross, Joseph Kinsler, Leona Krapf, Harry Metzger, Amy Smith, Lessie Shnyder, Carl Carson, Regina Bilnzler.

The following pupils will compose the C Intermediate, East Ward, Miss Alice Horton, teacher:

No other changes will be necessary.

E. S. LING, Principal.

Col. Reeder Dead.

Hon. Wilbur F. Reeder, deputy attorney general under Gov. Hastings, died at Bellefonte last Sunday.

Keystone Park Improvements.

We are pleased to note the improvements being made in Keystone Park by Mr. Josiah Howard, preparatory to the holding of the Agricultural Fair and Picnic on the first Thursday and Friday of October. Work has already begun on a new building, thirty-six by one hundred feet, to be used for sheltering stock and farm produce during the Fair, and as a play ground and gymnasium afterwards. It is to be built with the idea of being a permanent improvement.

Continues to Advance.

Don M. Larrabee and wife, of Philadelphia, who have been visiting the former's parents, at this place, returned to Philadelphia on Sunday. Mr. Larrabee has been promoted by New York Life Insurance Company to Agency Director in charge of Walnut Street Branch. He has also renewed his membership in New York Life's $100,000 Club, having written policies for more than that amount of new business during the year ending Sept. 1st. Mr. Larrabee will attend the Club's annual convention at Washington, D. C, this Fall.

Labor Day Service.

In his Labor Day talk Sunday night, Rev. Mr. Twichill will treat all the phases of capital and labor that seem to confront our country. He will discuss population centering in cities; extent of wealth and power concentration; trusts, how gigantic; strikes both good and bad sides; the bread winners compared the world over; wages, general average for women and men; trade unions, their effect; prime causes of poverty; national old age pensioning of all in some countries, which is also coming to every land. He will also speak of the remedies for the wrongs that exist. As Labor Day is intended to touch more upon the man side of toil, Mr. Twichell will so treat the subject and will use facts and figures to enforce all arguments. Ladies will be most cordially welcome, but men, as orders or individuals are especially invited to this plain talk on "Our Country and What it Contains."

A Letter From the Dead.

Will Irwin, who collaborated with Gelett Burgess in "The Picaroons" and "The Reign of Queen Isyl," has recently left his native California to come East and join the forces of the New York Sun. He was formerly Sunday editor of the San Francisco Chronicle. A rather "spooky" incident lies behind his decision to accept the Sun offer. A short while ago a letter came to him and, when he opened it, he received quite a shock of surprize in recognizing the handwriting of his friend, the novelist, Frank Norris, who had been dead some months. The friend to whom the letter had been intrusted had delayed in mailing it. In it Norris advised Irwin to "Get to New York," and the delayed epistle arrived just in time to help Irwin decide to accept the offer to come East.

Birthday Party.

Master Neil Coppersmith royally entertained sixteen of his little friends last Tuesday afternoon and evening at the pleasant and spacious home of his parents and grandma, Mrs. Stoddard, on East Allegheny avenue, in honor of his 12th birthday. The little guests assembled promptly at the hour set, 3 o'clock p. m., and from that time until 7 p. m., the air was fairly blue with juvenile hilarity and merriment, not a jar or a hitch of the slightest nature occurring to mar their happiness during the day, a grand display of sunshine without and within. Almost every game nameable was furnished and indulged in and the little folks showed themselves equal to the occasion in every particular, demonstrating to the older folks that they thoroughly enjoyed the superb hospitality and genius of their entertainer, even to the satisfying of almost an inexhaustable appetite for the over-abundant supply of luxurious edibles. Neil is a captain at making his friends enjoy themselves, and aside from the personal expression of gratitude by all on their departure, the beaming countenances of the little ones spoke louder than words—proving that their enjoyment was full—and that they had spent one of the grandest days of their lives, never to be forgotten and with hopes of it being repeated. Master Neil was handsomely remembered by his guests, which betokens the loyal friendship existing between them.

FOR SALE.—A good farm in Plank Road Hollow. For particulars inquire of Mr. Jos. Kinsler, Emporium, Pa. 23 tf.

The Musical.

The musical last Thursday evening in the First Methodist Episcopal Church was so good that those present, and the audience was a large one, were amply repaid for venturing thither through the rain. Cameron county is to be congratulated on her musicians. This was certainly the best musical entertainment by home talent that it has been the privilege of the writer to hear, and one of the best by any talent that has been given in Emporium. Miss Anna Metzger will be chiefly remembered in connection with this delightful evening by her masterly rendering of Handel's Largo and the selection from Lohengrin. The buoyancy, strength and directness which are characteristic of her playing are admirably suited to the rendering of these positive and optimistic compositions. The capabilities of the splendid organ were shown by Miss Metzger's playing.

Mr. Ericsson is a talented and accomplished musician. His piano numbers contributed much to the pleasure of the evening, as did also the vocal numbers of Miss Frank Huntley and Mr. Geo. A. Walker, Jr. The program was choice and the renderings good throughout.

Hard-Earned Wages.

An old church in Belgium decided to repair its properties, and employed an artist to touch up a large painting. Upon presenting his bill, the committee in charge refused payment unless the details were specified, whereupon he presented the items as follows:

To correcting the Ten Commandments,	$5.12
" Embelishing Pontius Pilate and putting new ribbons on his boanet,	3.02
" Putting new tail on rooster of St. Peter and mending his comb,	2.20
" Re-pluming and gilding left wing of guardian angel,	5.18
" Washing the servant of the High Priest and putting carmine on his cheeks,	5.02
" Renewing heaven, adjusting stars and cleaning up the moon,	7.14
" Touching up purgatory and restoring lost souls,	3.06
" Brightening up the flames of hell, putting new tail on devil, mending his left hoof, and doing several odd jobs for the damned,	7.17
" Re-bordering the robes of Herod and adjusting his wig,	4.00
" Taking the spots off the son of Tobias,	1.39
" Cleaning Balaam's Ass and putting one shoe on him,	1.70
" Putting a new stone in David's sling, enlarging the head of Goliah, and extending Saul's legs,	6.13
" Decorating Noah's Ark and putting a head on Shem,	4.31
" Mending the shirt of the Prodigal Son, and cleaning his ear,	3.39
Total,	$58.74

Death of Col. W. A. Simpson.

Col. W. A. Simpson, of Lock Haven, aged 79 years, died quite suddenly Monday afternoon. In speaking of his death the Lock Haven Democrat says: "Col. Simpson was born in Lancaster, September, 25, 1825, and was therefore within a month of reaching his 79th year. At the age of 18 years he came to this section and engaged in the lumber business at Sinnamahoning. While thus employed he acceded to the importunities of the residents about the place to teach a night school, and thus it is a matter of record that Col. Simpson was the first pedagogue to teach the idea how to shoot in Cameron county. His pupils were nearly all adults, the hardy pioneer men and women of the locality."

Who Has Resided in Cameron County the Longest?

The management of the Cameron County Agricultural Association Fair and Picnic to be held in Keystone Park, Emporium, Pa., Oct. 6th and 7th, desires to ascertain who is the oldest resident in the county. Not who is the oldest person but who has lived in the county the longest. Will all persons who have lived in the county over thirty-five years kindly send the date of the commencement of their residence in the county to Dr. R. P. Heilman, Emporium, Pa., Assistant Fair Manager. A postal card will do and don't forget to sign your name. Let every reader of this paper tell at least ten of the old residents of this effort, and urge them to reply before the fifteenth of September. The object of this will be explained later.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

JACKSON.

MRS. JOHN JACKSON, aged 77 years, died quite suddenly on Tuesday morning, at the old home on the Portage. She was only sick a few hours. The funeral takes place this afternoon from late residence, Rev. O. S. Metzler officiating. Deceased leaves an aged husband, Mr. John Jackson.

Democrat, Democrat, Blumle man,
Name me your issue as quick as you can;
Money or tariff or mere "vindication."
Publish it out to the county and Nation.

Naturalization Court.

Associate Judges, Hons. John McDonald and Geo. A. Walker will hold Naturalization Court, Tuesday, Sept. 6th, 1904.

Lost.

On Sunday last, on the Rich Valley road, a lady's Tafeta Jacket. A suitable reward will be paid the finder upon returning same to Ludlam's store, Emporium.

BLANCHE LUDLAM.

New Offices.

The Climax Powder Company have completed their large office building at the works and moved their clerical force therein. The Company conveys their clerks to and from the works.

Death Claim Settled.

The New York Life Insurance Co., paid to the parents of the late Orlow Jordan a check for $1,000, two weeks ago, in payment of policy carried by him in the above company. The settlement was made through Mr. Guy S. Felt, the agent for Cameron county.

Business Change.

By reference to a legal notice in another column it will be seen that the hardware firm of Friendel & Hurteau has dis solved. Mr. Friendel retiring.

Mr. Ed. E. Forbes has purchased an interest in the firm and entered actively upon his new work. His son Burton has accepted the position of book-keeper. The new firm are preparing for a lively fall trade and contemplate many improvements.

Pleasant Outing.

Mrs. T. W. Dinniny entertained a large party of lady friends at Keystone Park, yesterday afternoon, in honor of her sister, Mrs. E. J. Walling and son George, of Campbell, N. Y., who have been her guests two weeks. Those in attendance were Mesdames T. W. Dinniny, Fred Dinniny, T. W. Welsh, W. H. Welsh, J. R. Hamilton, O. P. Warner, C. H. Jessop, Martha Moore, F. N. Shaffer, Rob't Faucette, Rob't Clark, Walter Morrison, Stewart Nellis, Ed. Nellis, Geo. Day, Ida Baker, E. L Rendt, Jacob Huffman, A. Dalphy, and Misses Ida Baker and Lulu Rendt. Jake Huffman, Bob Clark and Walter Morrison sat on a log all afternoon, at a distance, watching a chance to make a raid on the pie but Harve Welsh stole a march on them, bringing the pie to the PRESS office.

Leaves His Daughter $60,000,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30.—The will of William Weightman, head of the firm of Powers & Weightman, manufacturing chemists, who died a few days ago at the age of 91 years, was probated yesterday, his entire estate, valued at more than $60,000,000, being left to his daughter, Mrs. Annie M. Walker, widow of the late Congressman Robert J. C. Walker, of Williamsport, Pa. By the terms of the will Mrs. Walker, who is the only surviving child, becomes sole proprietor of the extensive chemical works, which makes her one of the richest women in the world.

Mrs. Walker will assume active management of the drug business besides looking after the real estate left by her father, who was one of the largest holders of real estate in the country.

He owned much property in Pennsylvania outside of Philadelphia, and also in New York, Ohio, Nebraska, Delaware, West Virginia, Missouri and Wisconsin.

Mr. Landes, a Man of Worth.

The following reference to Mr. Landes, who will address the Sunday School Convention next week, at the Baptist church, will be read with interest:

Concerning Mr. Landes who has just been employed as Field Secretary of our State work, and who will be at most of the County Conventions this fall, we clip the following from the Ohio Sunday School Worker of which Dr. Jos. Clark is the editor:

"Mr. W. G. Landes' many friends will be delighted to know that he has been engaged by the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, as Field Secretary and that from August 1st he will devote his entire time to the Organized Sunday School Work with residence in Philadelphia.

"Pennsylvania surely has a prize in this man so naturally and spiritually gifted for the word. For three months the writer was daily associated with him as a member of the Ohio State Tour Party, (Spring Section) 1903. Mr. Landes is a thorough Sunday-school man of long practical experience. He is an expert in convention work, a beautiful singer of gospel song, a fine conductor of congregational music, a pleasing and practical platform speaker, and possesses a personality and beauty of Christian character which at once win to him lasting friends. He knows men; he knows the Sunday-school; he knows the Organized Sunday School Work; he knows God.

"Ohio bids him God speed in his new work, and only regrets that his field is not in Ohio."

WEATHER REPORT!

FRIDAY, Fair.
SATURDAY, Fair.
SUNDAY Fair.

BRIEF MENTION.

Buy your clothing at N. Seger's and be up-to-date.

Frank Shives' elaborate home will soon be ready for occupancy.

The best to be had in the clothing line at the old reliable house of N. Seger.

Judge Parker is an estimable gentleman, but what has he ever done for the laboring man?

The large plate glass for Balcom & Lloyd's store has arrived and men are at work putting in the front.

Why has our contemporary allowed the name of Grover Cleveland to fall into "innocuous desuetude?"

All well dressed men and boys buy their clothes at the old reliable house of N. Seger.

The latest in neck wear at N. Seger's. Call and see his large and elegant line of clothing and furnishings.

Postmaster Seger's new residence is being rapidly pushed to completion by contractor J. W. Kriner. It is among the neatest homes in town.

Would Judge Parker have bearded the coal barons as President Roosevelt did in 1902? No, it would have been "unconstitutional."

Senator Lodge is quite well satisfied with the political situation. He says that while President Roosevelt's majority will not be as large as McKinley's was in 1900, nevertheless he will win by a good margin."

There is place for an interchange of good natured banter during a political campaign, as well as at other times, between local contemporaries. We hope in time to educate the Independent up to the point where it can take a joke or criticism without allowing its temperature to run up to 105.

How many people realize that there are over two thousand monthly magazines in the United States? An article in the September number of the Woman's Home Companion on "The Wonders of Magazine-Making" is full of just such little-known and interesting facts about magazines.

WANTED—Industrious man or women as permanent representative of big manufacturing company, to look after its business in this county and adjoining territory. Business successful and established. Salary $20.00 weekly and expenses. Salary paid weekly from home office. Expense money advanced. Experience not essential. Enclose self-addressed envelope, General Manager. Como Block, Chicago. 28 8t.

Few circus aerialists, no matter how daring, work without first minimizing their danger by the erection of a safety net directly under them and ten or a dozen feet above the ground. More fearless and death defying than all others, the aerial performers with Sig. Sautell's Nine Consolidated Railroad Shows, which will exhibit in Emporium Tuesday, Sept. 6, use neither net or life belts, depending entirely upon their own courage, confidence and powers. There are more amazing, stupendous, terrifically startling and exceedingly sensational mid-air champions with the Sautelle circus than are to be found in all others combined The hair raising, thrilling feats these conceded meteoric kings and queens perform high above the heads of the fear gasping spectators are such as few persons dare risk. The members of one troupe particularly appear to be without nerves or fear. They pass and repass from bar to bar, from ring to ring, and subsequently from bar to landing place with a cleverness certainty and precision, showing the loftiest possible training coupled with the most fearful astonishing skill and judgment. They fly through space. their bodies revolving like swiftly moving balls, toss and catch each other with as much unconcern as the average person exhibits when sitting down to an uncommonly good dinner. The other performers upon Mr. Sautelle's pay-rolls are likewise post graduates of their profession, having been called from the top most circles of American and European artists. The clowns are more ludicrous than ever and are the monarchs of fun and frolic. They cause the children to go into paroxysms of laughter and elicit smiles from even savants, philosophers and scientists. They cause spinsters, bachelors and nurses ecstasies of merriment. The clows in themselves are a whole show. Lack of space prevents the naming of all other mighty features in the big shows, historical wild west and menagerie; suffice to say they are the best wealth can obtain. The British Cotton Growing association has directed its efforts mainly upon the British possessions in Africa, assisting planters by monetary grants in some of the colonies. Experiments made have proved that prospects for cotton cultivation on an extensive scale are highly promising in British Central Africa and British West Africa. It is expected that in the first named there will be 200,000 acres planted in cotton before the year 1905.

The English newspapers report a new application in Australia of the principle of the coin-in-the-slot machine, stating that if a stamp can not be purchased conveniently it will be possible in the future to drop a letter into one orifice of a postal box and a penny into a second orifice, and the words "One Penny Paid" will be found impressed on the envelope when the box is opened by the post office authorities, thereby securing the transmission of the letter.

In England they have regular schools for divers. The chief British naval school of this kind is at Portsmouth. As training in the open sea would be dangerous, the would-be diver receives his first lessons in a large circular steel tank, fitted with glazed portals, through which his movements can be watched by the instructor. The men, who have to undergo a strict medical examination before entering upon the work, are all volunteers.

Average length of ships has increased 50 or 60 per cent. during the last quarter of a century. The 455 feet of the Britannic of 1874 seem almost insignificant compared with the 702 feet of the Cedric and the 760 feet of certain projected vessels. The 1,000-foot vessel probably will not be long in coming. Berths are even now being advised to accord with this standard, and entrance locks and graving docks are also being lengthened. A few years ago 500 feet was considered an extreme dimension; nowadays this is deemed very moderate.

The results of field tests covering 12 years' work upon the farm of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, at Wooster, show the 12 heaviest yielding varieties of wheat to be, in the order named: Mealy, Gypsy, Improved Poole, Poole, Early Ripe, Nigger, Valley, Mediterranean, Perfection, Red Wonder, Nixon and New Monarch. It is not to be expected that similar rank as to yield will obtain on all Ohio soils. The Mealy wheat is particularly unsatisfactory upon rich, or bottom lands. Nor is it to be understood that yield is the only factor in determining the relative value of different varieties.

In these days, when railroads are run more for what there is in them for a favored few than for the accommodation of the general public, it may be interesting to recall the fact that there is right here in North America a "holy railroad." This is a little line 21 miles long, from Quebec to Ste. Anne De Beaupre. It is sacred because it claims to run "especially for the accommodation of pilgrims," and above all, because at its opening a few years since it was formally blessed with all its belongings.

According to the Railway Age, the fastest time ever made by a steam locomotive was that of the Reading's regular passenger train No. 25 from Camden to Atlantic City on July 20. The record then made was 115.2 miles an hour for 4.8 miles. No preparations had been made for a special run, but lost time was being regained. There were five cars. The whole run of 55.5 miles to Atlantic City in 43 minutes was at the rate of 77.4 miles an hour. One stretch of 29.3 miles was made at a rate of 87.9 miles an hour.

The Japanese are allowed to be among the very strongest people on earth. They are strong mentally and physically, and yet practically they eat no meat at all. The diet which enables them to develop such hardy frames and such well-balanced and keen brains consists almost wholly of rice, steamed or boiled, while the better-to-do add to this Spartan fare fish, eggs, vegetables and fruit. For beverages, they use weak tea, without sugar or milk, and pure water, alcoholic stimulants being but rarely indulged in.

Uncle Sam—"How Long Have You Been Out of the Asylum?"

NO RING TO HIS KEYNOTE

Judge Parker's Speech of Acceptance Does Not Define a Single Issue of Importance.

Judge Parker has failed dismally. The sphinx of Esopus has spoken—and has said nothing. The democratic candidate for the presidency was presented with a great occasion, and he failed to rise to it. His speech of acceptance disappoints his friends, pleases his political opponents and perplexes everyone. It lacks vigor, life, point—everything in short that appeals to the coursing red blood of the average American citizen.

It was naturally expected that after his emphatic injection of gold into the democratic platform Candidate Parker would seize the first public opportunity to brace up a few other planks that the St. Louis convention left too weak to bear the weight of a man big enough to fill the chief executive's chair; but Judge Parker seems to have exhausted his bracing qualities in that one effort.

When before has a democratic presidential candidate failed to make an issue of the tariff? At no point are the great political parties so clearly divided as here, yet what does Judge Parker do with this question? He favors "a reasonable reduction of the tariff," and then frankly admits that even should the people return a democratic congress and a democratic president next November that congress and that president would be absolutely powerless to change a single item in the tariff schedule without the assistance or consent of a republican senate.

Coming to the question of the future of the Philippines, he says: "It is difficult to understand how any citizen of the United States, much less a descendant of revolutionary stock, can tolerate the thought of permanently denying the right of self-government to the Filipinos." Then he adds that the responsibility which has come to us in the acquisition of the Philippines "will be best subserved by preparing the islanders as rapidly as possible for self-government and giving to them the assurances that it will come as soon as they are reasonably prepared for it." This is exactly what the republican platform advances and what President Roosevelt advocated in his speech of acceptance.

On reciprocity and the "open door" as trade policies Judge Parker is mute. On both of these most important questions the republican platform and the republican candidate are emphatic. In short, on every point which might be made or really is an issue in this campaign Judge Parker is either silent or so judicially noncommittal that no intelligent person can follow him.

From first to last, says the Chicago Post, the democratic candidate does not give his party a single clearly defined, concrete political issue. He does not advance a single argument to convince the voters that his election and the success of his party this year would be for the benefit of the country. In his 4,000 words of careful avoidance of definiteness we have a vague sense of extreme conservatism clouded here and there by a touch of radicalism, and a rather lively impression that he did as well, perhaps, as a wavering candidate could do on a wabbly platform.

Fault Lies with the South.

If the south finds a deep sentiment in the north against its excessive representation in the house and the electoral college it has itself to blame. Everywhere else the country divides on questions of government, of financial and economic policy. The south refuses to consider these questions and votes solidly for a party ticket on issues having nothing whatever to do with matters of general government. The situation is such that whenever a band of radicals up north get control of the democratic machinery and launch policies menacing the country the south votes solidly with them, even when the southern sentiment is wholly opposed to the platform offered.—Kansas City Journal.

☞Mr. Taggart would like to have it understood that, while he is thankful for encouragement and good advice, he can use certified checks and currency to better advantage.—Chicago Chronicle.

☞The tamest and dullest speech of acceptance by a candidate of a great party which has been delivered in a generation is that which comes to the country from Esopus. From beginning to end the whole affair of the notification was prosy and perfunctory. Neither the notifiers nor the notified seem to have had heart in the work. It is hard to tell from the judge's address which side he is on.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

GOLD AND JUDGE PARKER.

Record of Democratic Candidate Shows That He Has Been Ambitious for Years.

Oh, well, everybody really interested in the subject is sufficiently advised as to Judge Parker's financial views and record. He never believed in the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1. His environment if nothing else, forbade that. He voted for the proposition twice, simply on the score of partisan regularity. He wanted to keep his record straight. He probably did not expect or wish for success at the polls. Very likely, he foresaw what has actually taken place: that, after a drubbing or two for its follies, his party would drop, or try to drop, its more extreme deliverances and appeal to the country in the guise of a conservative. That day has come, and Judge Parker, with a record of having cast none but democratic votes, is his party's leader. He solicits the votes of silver men because of the regularity of his record, and of gold men because of the regularity of his financial views.

It may be asked, says the Washington Star, why Judge Parker, removed at the time from the activities and excitement of politics, and when so many of his party friends were repudiating the party's platform and nominees, decided to stand by his party. Did he have his eye even then on the white house? Why not? He had been a politician, and a good one, before becoming a judge. He had refused a United States senatorship as far back as 1891. He was the bosom friend and associate of David B. Hill, the most adroit and powerful democrat in the state. New York was certain not to lose, and she might increase her importance in democratic presidential calculations. He had many friends and was ambitious. Why should he not have weighed all these things carefully, and shaped his course accordingly?

Let Judge Parker be appraised, not by the hysterics of a few gold democrats, who have been very uncomfortable since 1896 and have eagerly seized the first excuse for scurrying back home. They would have the country believe that he is the greatest man ever. They come dangerously near to setting him above Mr. Cleveland, who until the gold telegram was written monopolized the glory of this world. But let us consider the Sage of Esopus as a human being, looking at things through human eyes, keeping very human company and very anxious to be president of the United States. Evidently he has had his eyes on the white house for some years. The record shows it.

DRIFT OF PUBLIC OPINION.

☞Judge Parker has let go of his judicial job, and there is now nothing to prevent him from talking as much as any other democrat.—Philadelphia Press.

☞Mr. Parker was careful to remind those who believe in remaining prosperous that although he is a rabid free trader himself, there will always be a republican senate there to see that the tariff is not tinkered with to any great extent.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

☞Ex-Gov. Hogg, of Texas, in addressing the democratic convention of that state said that "Roosevelt has done much for this country in busting three of the greatest trusts." Hogg calls Parker "the lockjaw judge." Certainly the symptoms of some tenacious disease are manifest in the democratic campaign.—Troy (N. Y.) Times.

☞Col. C. C. Matson, of Greencastle, Ind., who recently declared in an interview that "there is no possible chance of the democrats carrying Indiana," is a leading democrat of the state. He was the democratic nomine for governor in 1888. He formerly represented his district as democratic authority in and on Indiana.

☞Ex-Judge Parker pronounces the democratic platform admirable. Mr. Bryan says Mr. Parker's speech of acceptance is admirable. The incident will close when somebody expresses the proper amount of admiration for Mr Bryan.—Chicago Tribune.

☞Not so badly off after all. Wage increase since 1896, 16.6 per cent.; increase in cost of living, 15.5 per cent That cheerful optimist, Col. Carroll D Wright, can always be relied upon to prove to us with figures that we are a little farther away from the wolf or the bowwows than ever before in the history of the race.—Boston Transcript.

UNCLE SAM'S PENSION ROLL.

ANNUAL REPORT OF PENSION COMMISSIONER WARE.

Total Number of Pensioners Slightly Exceeds 994,000—Nearly 44,000 Died During the Year.

Washington, Aug. 25.—The annual report of Pension Commissioner Ware, covering the fiscal year ended June 30, 1904, was made public yesterday by the acting secretary of the interior. The report shows that during the year the cost of maintaining the pension system of the government was $144,712,787. The appropriation for this purpose was $146,419,296, leaving an unexpended balance of $1,706,509.

During the year 47,374 persons were added to the pension rolls—326 by special act of congress and the balance by the pension bureau. During the same period 49,157 pensioners were dropped from the rolls. Of these death claimed 43,820, of whom 31,728 were soldiers, 30,071 being volunteers of the civil war. The total number of pensioners on the rolls as covered by the report is 720,315 soldiers, 273,841 widows and dependents and 606 army nurses.

The report refers to the order issued by the commissioner March 15 last, in which age is made an evidence of disability and says that in the three and a half months of its operation only 8 per cent., or 28,806 out of the 375,000 pensioners, have asked for increases under its terms. The report says the order introduces no new principle, and "is in the direct line of economy, as it certainly is in the line of precedent." Less than 6 per cent. of the appropriation of $1,500,000 was used to pay claimants under the order, the balance being turned back into the treasury.

NEW YORKERS LEAD.

Militiamen from the Empire State Win First Prize in the National Rifle Competition.

Fort Riley, Kan., Aug. 25.—The first event of the national rifle competition, the national team match, closed last evening with the New York national guard team having the highest score for the three days' shooting. The four service teams followed with the navy team in second place, army infantry third, army cavalry fourth and marine corps fifth. The District of Columbia national guard team was sixth. These teams will participate in the distribution of the trophies, cash prizes and medals. The most remarkable change in the places of the teams was that of the navy. It occupied the sixth place at the close of the second day's firing, and in two skirmish runs, which was the program for yesterday, it jumped to second place.

The New York team will receive the first prize of the trophy and $500 cash; the navy team will receive second, the Hilton trophy, which was presented by the late Henry Hilton, of New York, and $300 cash; the army infantry, third, will receive the bronze "Soldier of Marathon," presented by the commander-in-chief on behalf of the state of New York, and $200 in cash; the army cavalry team will receive $150, the marines $100 and the District of Columbia $50. Each member of the six winning teams will receive medals. Each of the trophies will be competed for annually.

TO ESCAPE MILITARY SERVICE.

Hundreds of Russians Try to Cross the Frontier Into Germany.

Berlin, Aug. 25.—The number of Russian fugitives from military service entering Germany on their way to the United States and Great Britain increases daily and the German police detain many and deliver them to the Russian frontier posts. The fugitives usually buy false passports within Russian territory, entitling them to leave the empire, but many risk their lives in escaping across the frontier, notwithstanding the vigilance of the frontier guards. The German police carefully inspect all fourth class railway compartments of trains moving westward from the Silesian frontier. Most of the fugitives are caught at Kandrzin station, where several railways meet and an emigrant inspection station is located.

All persons intending to go to the United States without money enough to meet the requirements of the American immigration laws are sent back to Russia and are delivered to the Russian authorities at Sosnovice. Nine fugitives were handed over on Saturday last.

Consuela S. Won a Big Stake.

Readville, Mass., Aug. 25.—Ten thousand people saw Consuela S. win the Massachusetts stake, the richest event on the harness turf this year, in five fiercely contested heats yesterday. The stake was for trotters eligible to the 2:10 class last April, and was valued at $15,000. Consuela S. was second choice and won the three final heats after the first had been captured by George G. and the second had gone to Dr. Strong. On the form which he had displayed this season, the talent picked Dr. Strong to win.

A Double Execution.

Rolling Fork, Miss., Aug. 25.—Albert Davis and Dave Fields, wife murderers, were hanged here yesterday on the same scaffold.

Thirty-five People Injured.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Fully 35 persons were injured yesterday in a trolley wreck on the Rochester & Eastern railway near Pittsford. About a dozen people had fractured limbs and were seriously bruised and the remainder suffered minor injuries, most of which were caused by broken glass. A train of two cars bound from Canandaigua to Rochester collided with a single car running east. The former was late and ran past the siding where it was to have met the car from Rochester. The trains met on a sharp curve.

BACKACHE AND DIZZINESS.

Most of the Ailments Peculiar to the Female Sex are Due to Catarrh of Pelvic Organs.

MRS. M. BRICKNER.

99 Eleventh Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

"A short time ago I found my condition very serious, I had headaches, pains in the back, and frequent dizzy spells which grew worse every month. I tried two remedies before Peruna, and was discouraged when I took the first dose, but my courage soon returned. In less than two months my health was restored."—Mrs. M. Brickner.

The reason of so many failures to cure cases similar to the above is the fact that diseases peculiar to the female sex are not commonly recognized as being caused by catarrh.

FEMALE TROUBLE NOT RECOGNIZED AS CATARRH.

Catarrh of one organ is exactly the same as catarrh of any other organ. What will cure catarrh of the head will also cure catarrh of the pelvic organs. Peruna cures these cases simply because it cures the catarrh.

If you have catarrh write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

QUEER RULES FOR EMPLOYES.

Some Commercial Houses in New York Put Rigid Restrictions on Hirsute Appendages.

It is a pretty well known fact that there exists in the famous banking house of Coutts & Co., of New York city, a rule that the members of the office staff shall be clean shaven.

At one time it was a hard and fast rule for high and low alike, and any bearded or bewhiskered applicant for a vacancy was given to understand he would have to remove his hirsute decorations ere he could fill the post.

This rule is not nowadays so rigidly enforced, but it still exists in the form of a general understanding that it is the expressed wish of Baroness Burdett-Coutts that employes should keep chins, lips and cheeks nicely devoid of hair.

In not a few businesses similar restrictions are sternly imposed upon employes. For instance, in the offices of Messrs. Field, Farmer & Co., a New York stock broking firm, short side whiskers, commonly known as "mutton-chops," are absolutely forbidden, owing to some unpleasantness having arisen at one time through a partner and a clerk wearing a similar hirsute adornment.

Probably Won't Help Any.

A Pittsburg man has been fined $80 in Canada for catching 14 more black bass than the law allowed. Still, says the Chicago Record-Herald, he will probably find it hard to get people to believe his fish stories.

AS EASY.

Needs Only a Little Thinking.

The food of childhood often decides whether one is to grow up well nourished and healthy or weak and sickly from improper food.

It's just as easy to be one as the other, provided we get a proper start.

A wise physician like the Denver Doctor who knew about food, can accomplish wonders, provided the patient is willing to help and will eat only proper food.

Speaking of this case the Mother said her little four-year-old boy was suffering from a peculiar derangement of the stomach, liver and kidneys and his feet became so swollen he couldn't take a step. "We called a Doctor who said at once we must be very careful as to his diet, as improper food was the only cause of his sickness. Sugar especially, he forbid.

"So the Dr. made up a diet and the principal food he prescribed was Grape-Nuts and the boy, who was very fond of sweet things, took the Grape-Nuts readily without adding any sugar. (Dr. explained that the sweet in Grape-Nuts is not at all like cane or beet sugar but is the natural sweet of the grains.)

"We saw big improvement inside a few days and now Grape-Nuts are almost his only food and he is once more a healthy, happy, rosy-cheeked youngster with every prospect to grow up into a strong healthy man." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The sweet in Grape-Nuts is the Nature-sweet known as Post Sugar, not digested in the liver like ordinary sugar, but predigested. Feed the youngsters a handful of Grape-Nuts when Nature demands sweet and prompts them to call for sugar.

There's a reason.

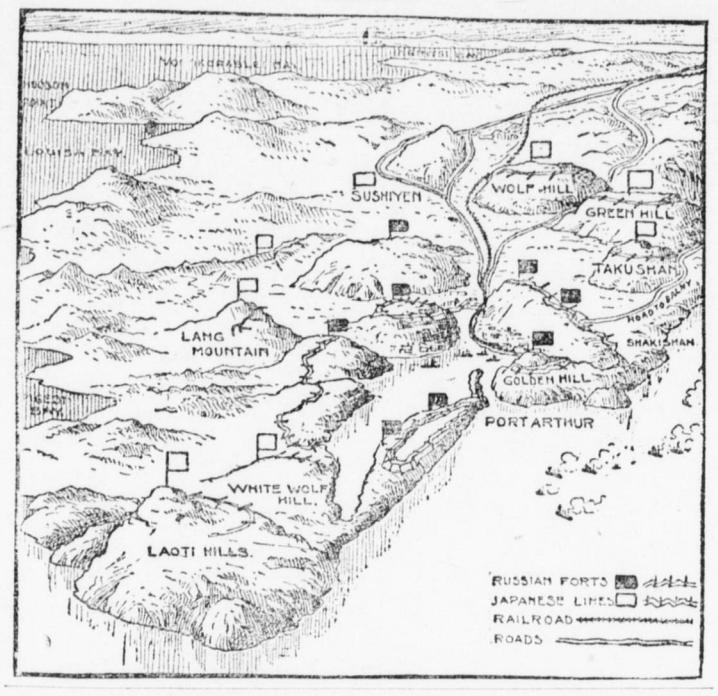
LOCATION OF HILLS FROM WHICH THE JAPANESE ARE BOMBARDING PORT ARTHUR.



BULLETINS OF THE FAR EAST STRUGGLE

JAPS CAPTURE "CHAIR FORT."

London, Aug. 24.—The Evening News publishes a dispatch from Che Foo under Tuesday's date announcing that the Japanese captured "Chair fort," of the Port Arthur defenses, Monday, after a tremendous attack.

Washington, Aug. 24.—Consul General Goodnow at Shanghai cabled the state department yesterday that the Chinese taotai of Shanghai, through the British consul, has ordered that the repairs to the Russian cruiser Askold and the torpedo boat destroyer Grozovoi be stopped. The order was made through the British consul because of the fact that the repairs were being made by the British dock company at Shanghai.

RUSSIAN BOAT DISABLED.

London, Aug. 25.—The correspondent of the Times at Shanghai, in a dispatch dated August 24, 11:35 p. m., says that orders from Emperor Nicholas have been conveyed to Capt. Reitzenstein commanding him forthwith to disarm the cruiser Askold and the torpedo boat destroyer Grozovoi, and that "the flags on both vessels were lowered at 7 o'clock to-night."

Tokio, Aug. 25.—Further details of the disabling of the Russian battleship Sevastopol have been received here. It seems that on Tuesday afternoon, while shelling the Japanese land forces from a position outside of Port Arthur, the battleship struck a mine and was disabled by the explosion. She was towed into Port Arthur.

Admiral Kataoka reports that the Japanese cruisers Nisshin and Kasuga fired upon the Russian forts on Tuesday. They discovered that the Russians were shelling the Japanese land forces. The Nisshin and the Kasuga steamed in close to land and after a short bombardment silenced the Russian guns.

Che Foo, Aug. 25.—Information of undoubted authenticity states that the Japanese armored cruisers Nisshin and Kasuga have bombarded and silenced the Russian forts east of Golden Hill, at the entrance of Port Arthur.

STRUCK FLOATING MINES.

Tokio, Aug. 26.—Five steamers and three torpedo boat destroyers emerged from Port Arthur Wednesday morning and began the work of clearing away floating mines. At 6:20 in the evening a two-funnelled torpedo boat destroyer struck a mine two miles off Liaoti promonotory and sunk immediately. Five minutes later a second destroyer with four funnels ran against another floating mine which exploded. This second vessel was at once surrounded by other Russian ships and towed into Port Arthur, the entire flotilla accompanying her. These occurrences were seen from various Japanese watch towers.

Che Foo, Aug. 26.—Russian advices received here say that the Japanese assaults on Port Arthur August 21 and August 22 were repulsed with tremendous losses. It is added that the attempt of the Japanese to capture Fort No. 1 cost them 10,000 men, and that their attack on Fort Etseshan resulted in their losing 3,000 men killed or wounded. Port Dalny is said to be filled with wounded men.

Golden Hill, White Marble mountain and Liaoti mountain, according to Chinese advices dated the night of August 22, are now the only main forts securely held by the Russians at Port Arthur.

A junk which left Port Arthur August 22 reports that the Russian wounded at that date numbered 5,000 and that the Japanese occupied the heights near Chaochanko.

JAPS MADE ANOTHER ATTACK.

Che Foo, Aug. 27.—A Russian who has an intimate knowledge of Port Arthur's fortifications explains that there are three forts known as No. 5. This accounts for the various and conflicting reports regarding fighting at No. 5. Two batteries on the left wing bear this number, as does also a strong fort to the left of Etseshan fort. The fort near Etseshan is believed to have been the object of the fighting reported from here Thursday as the Japanese being already in possession of Etseshan it would be comparatively easy for them to capture the adjoining stronghold. This move brings the Japanese advance guard close to the section of Port Arthur known as the new European settlement.

Japanese here expect that their army may even enter the residence and business district of Port Arthur, but that this would not necessarily mean the fall of the Russian stronghold. The Russian defenses are arranged with the idea of resisting as long as a man is left,

Another dispatch to the Temps from Liao Yang, dated Thursday, says that on the previous day the Japanese made a reconnaisance to within about 25 miles of Liao Yang. After an artillery and infantry engagement the Japanese fell back. Thursday they attempted another reconnaisance in force. The engagement lasted all day, the Japanese again retiring.

Liao Yang, Aug. 27.—According to the best information obtainable, the Japanese are preparing for a desperate attack upon Liao Yang, in which, the Chinese say, they are confident of success. Siege guns have been sent from Yinkow to Tatchekiao, intended for use against Kuropatkin's positions.

REFUSE TO ARBITRATE.

Packing House Owners Decline to Negotiate with Strikers.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—The conferences of the committee appointed earlier in the week to attempt a settlement of the stock yards strike with the parties to the dispute resulted in nothing. There is no prospect at present that they will result in anything in the future and the chances of an agreement between the packers and the strikers appear very meagre. The strike leaders appeared before the committee Friday morning and stated their side of the case. They did not suggest to the aldermatic committee that it make any overtures to the packers, but simply gave their side of the case. The representatives of the packers, T. J. Connors, Edward Tilden, Thomas E. Wilson and J. E. Maurer, then appeared before the committee and after a session that lasted three hours Mayor Harrison said:

"The packers have said just what they said before—that they are running their plants and have nothing to arbitrate, and that there is no reason why they should confer with the men."

A Warning to Federal Officeholders.

Washington, Aug. 27.—In view of the approaching election the civil service commission has addressed a letter to the heads of all government departments calling their attention to violations of the civil service law which have occurred in the past in connection with political campaigns, and enclosing a circular containing a warning against the demanding or payment of political assessments and partisan activity of officeholders. The commission announces that it will employ every legitimate means to secure the prosecution and punishment of whoever may violate the law.

Spent 40 Minutes Under Water.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 25.—It became known yesterday that while the submarine torpedo boat Shark was being prepared for a submerged run near Brenton's Reef lightship Monday afternoon she sank to the bottom in a hundred feet of water and remained there for some time before the crew could move her The ten men on board displayed no excitement over the situation, but tried a number of experiments before the boat could be raised. Finally after 40 minutes they succeeded by use of the hand pumps in bringing her to the surface.

Laney's Pal Is Arrested.

Augusta, Ga., Aug. 26.—A special to the Herald from Rome, Ga., says Dick Brook, the alleged partner of Joe Laney, jr., was arrested there Thursday. Laney, who is only 16 years old, is under arrest at Atlanta charged with embezzling $11,000 from the Western Union Telegraph Co. at Dallas, Tex. When arrested Wednesday Laney gave his partner's name as Black and said they had spent $3,000 of the money and that his partner had the remaining $8,000 in his possession. Now he denies his statement in this connection.

EDITORIAL MENTION.

Mr. Davis is to old a bird to be trapped into parting with any of his hard earned savings for the purchase of a piece of blue sky.

Would Judge Parker have unearthed the postal frauds in the vigorous and fearless manner of President Roosevelt? No, that would have been undignified.

Judge Parker's lips and Mr. Davis' money bags are both securely locked. David B. Hill holds the combination to the one; chairman Taggart would like to know the combination to the other.

The fact that the Republicans in Nebraska are confidently claiming the state for Roosevelt, while conceding the legislature to Bryan, shows plainly what kind of support Bryan is giving to Parker.

When reading Judge Parker's speech of acceptance the Independent must have skipped the paragraph dealing with the Philippine question. We ask our readers to compare Judge Parker's utterance upon this subject with the declaration in the present Democratic county platform. May we ask which of these deliverances represents the views of the Independent.

In writing the report of the late Democratic county convention we presumed that the chairman of the county committee knew how to take some good-natured chaff. It was simply our little way of recognizing him as the most active and influential force in the local Democratic situation. The reference to "grammatical and rhetorical errors" was a piece of empty chaff. The chairman of the Democratic county Committee does not need to come to us, nor to any one, for a diploma in grammar or rhetoric.

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25; large size, 75c. At all druggists. 49-ly.

Warning.

All persons are hereby forbidden from trespassing upon the property of this Company without a permit from this office, or the Superintendant at the works.

Straw votes are being taken in various parts of the country as an indication of the blowing of the political wind. In Chicago these votes show a great gain for Roosevelt. In Savannah the vote might be just the other way.

The State Department announces that the Government has not invited any of the crowned heads of the Old World to visit the St. Louis exposition. The reason is that Congress neglected to make an appropriation for their entertainment. If one should happen to come over, however, he will be made welcome, and the President will take him rough riding on horse back, rain or shine.

In his letter of August 16th to the Grand Army in Boston the President foreshadowed his policy regarding the Filipinos. He said: "Under the lead of your comrades the Philippine Islands were won for the cause of civilization, of civil liberty, and of peace and justice." This is all any reasonable people can ask for, and with these will come prosperity and contentment.

There is considerable anxiety manifesting itself among the Democrats regarding the part Messrs. Bryan and Hearst will take in the campaign. This is amusing, when one considers with what scant courtesy they have been treated by those who are now running the party. If Bryan and Hearst were of such slight consequeuce before the St. Louis convention it can be of little importence what they do or say since the convention.

It is generally admitted that this year New York is a doubtful state, and the political fight will be hot there as in any state in the Union. It has not yet been decided who will be the candidate for governor for either party, but it is understood that Mr. Root positively declines to run. Col. Lamont says the nomination has not yet been offered to him! Whoever runs for governor, neither party will surrender the state without a desperate effort to hold it. It is the Port Arthur of the situation.

The great fair at St. Louis is doing very well, and if no calamity befalls it, the money advanced by the United States is likely to be repaid. Already nearly two millions of dollars have been refunded to the Treasury which leaves $2,600,000 more to be paid. The people of Europe appear to take a deeper interest in the fair than those of this country. It was the Emperor of Germany who advised some of his wealthy American hosts to return to the United States, and visit St. Louis. He hoped they would look at some of the art treasures contributed by Germany, and possibly purchase a few.

Letter to Fred Julian.

Emporium, Pa.

Dear Sir: A gallon saved is $4 or $5 earned Devoe saves 2 or 3 gallons in 10. How much is it worth a gallon?

A gallon saved saves the painting too; and both together cost $4 or $5—$4 where labor is cheap; $5 where labor is dear.

Our agents in Bridgeport, Conn., Hubbell & Wade Co., tell us: "There are a great many workingmen's houses here. They used to paint lead-and-oil and take ten gallons. We have been selling them ten gallons Devoe lead-and-zinc, and have had, in every instance, two gallons returned." The proportion is often higher than that; we have known it five in ten; but that is exceptional.

This is the explanation; Devoe is ground by machinerry, and is ground fine; lead-and-oil is mixed by hand, and isn't ground at all.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.

From 148 to 92 Pounds.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by R. C. Dodson.

The Stomach is the Man.

A weak stomach weakens the man, because, it cannot transform the food he eats into nourishment. Health and strength, cannot be restored to any sick man or weak women without first restoring health and strength to the stomach. A weak stomach cannot digest enough food to feed the tissues and revive the tired and run down limbs and organs of the body. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, cleanses and strengthens the glands and membranes of the stomach, and cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

EDITOR PRESS:—

Lakeside Assembly, which for the last few years has been growing into one of the most promising Chautauquas of the country, closed her phenomenally successful season this evening with a grand farewell rally and jubilation in the large amphitheatre. At the meeting of the Board of Directors on Friday it was decided to add 500 shares more to the original stock of 500 shares, par value $10 each, and offer them for sale. From the very first announcement a grand rush ensued and the shares went like hot cakes. Up to Saturday evening 100 shares were sold and to-day a large number were sold, leaving just a few yet on hand for sale. The assembly has the proud distinction of boasting not only in having built, during this Summer, one of the most complete amphitheatres in the country, but also in being able to show a grand financial report for this fiscal year with all current bills liquidated Capt. Richard Hobson, who lectured to about 5,000 people here Saturday and Sunday, is one of the new stockholders. At the last meeting of the Board of Trustees additional building improvements was voted upon. Since a complete normal and an advanced music course will be added to the regular course of study next year, the trustees propose building a large commodious hotel, a conservatory of music and a new school building for next Summer.

The Chautauqua next year will be opened in the middle of July and will be held for six weeks.

For the Housekeeper.

Executive ability and originality are the two secrets of successful hospitality, and the limitation of the purse need not keep one from the attainment of this purposs, says Eleanor Marchant in the September Delineator, and in proof thereof gives a number of original plans that will provide the maximum of entertainment at the minimum of expense. A unique popcorn party, a home picnic, supper or luncheon served in true outdoor style and a peach fete are some of the suggestions. In the same number are given refreshments for a garden party, and among the culinary topics are various recipes for egg-plant and oyster-plant, and for sweet sandwiches and frozen desserts.

A VILLAGE STREET

Where swaying branches lace and meet
In canopies of green
Above an old-time village street,
Quiet and cool and clean,
The mellow sunbeams filter slow
And, interwrought with shade,
Trace on the velvet sward below
A shimmering brocade.

No sound disturbs the holy hush
That wraps the silent street
Save when at times some trill of thrush
Drifts tremulously sweet;
Or else, when purple twilight flings
A gauzy veil and thin,
Wake echoes from the tinkling strings
Of mellow mandolin.

This is the street, serene and sweet,
Down which in days agone
I tripped with bare and buoyant feet
Through dews of dusk and dawn;
Or romped at play with comrades gay
While some long afternoon
Droned slowly, drowsily away
Like bees in fields of June.

Old quiet street! the steps that learn
The city's crowded ways
Once more and eagerly will turn
To scenes of other days,
And sick of ceaseless fray and fret,
Cacophonous and rude,
Will seek, while eyes grow dim and wet,
Thy restful quietude!

A RUNT BUNCH OF BANANAS

By FRANK H. SWEET

(Copyright, 1904, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

IT was only a scrawny, half-sized bunch, with irregular, misshapen fingers that had been squeezed between more thrifty bunches on adjoining stalks, but it proved the salvation of Seppina Alfano and Tony.

At the Barratas finca it was cut because the parent stalk had to be cut and removed to make room for new growth, and the machete stroke was so careless as to clip the tips of a whole cluster of fingers. That made premature decay inevitable.

Of course the bunch was thrown out, but by some inadventure a field hand picked it up and included it with a lot that was being hurried to a vessel. There the clipped tips were unnoticed, because at the moment the bunch passed the inspector his attention was divided by a fluttering handkerchief; but he waved the bearer of the fruit toward that portion of the hold where only half-bunches of the poorest quality were placed, for even the most cursory glance showed it had but two and a half hands, with fingers of almost unmarketable ugliness.

Twenty hours later the vessel weighed anchor and left Trujillo, and by the time it passed Cape Catoche, with the end of Cuba showing as a shadow off to the right, the injured tips were in process of decay. At New Orleans the bunch was unhesitatingly discarded as being unfit for a journey north. A hundred or more other bunches were discarded at the same time, perfect fruit, except that they were a shade too ripe for a long journey. These were sold for a trifle to city fruit venders who were waiting about the wharf with their push carts, watching for just such a chance to buy.

Petro, the Italian who had a stand in front of the St. Charles hotel, was the largest buyer; and as he started away with his fruit a wharf hand picked up the decaying runt bunch and tossed it upon the load. It was easier to do that than to carry it to the wharf edge and drop it into the water. But Petro, arrived at the hotel, threw this bunch with the litter behind his stand. His was the show position of the city, with fastidious patronage, and even the best of those unshapely and undersized fingers among his fine stock would injure trade. The other fruit was carefully wiped and placed in attractive pyramids and cones, and all the refuse of straw and stalks thrown back upon the increasing pile of litter. Then his keen, bead-like eyes went roving thriftily up and down the street.

A tramp was slouching furtively along the opposite sidewalk, apparently uncertain where to go, and evidently afraid to remain where he was. New Orleans was under a wave of reform, and the city was packed with its customary winter tramps. Every day hundreds of them were being run in and set to work, and the others were in constant dread of sharing the same hard fate. Many were leaving the city.

Twenty yards back was a young woman, not so slouching nor so ragged and disreputable looking as the first tramp, but just as furtive. Her head and face were concealed by a bit of frayed shawl. To all appearance the two were not aware of each other's presence.

Petro's thrifty eyes caught the man's furtive ones, and his hand went up in beckoning. The tramp hesitated a little and then started across the street, his gaze roving apprehensively from side to side. The woman followed his example promptly, but without looking at him. They reached Petro's stand but a few feet apart.

"You like a fine, easy job?" asked Petro, persuasively. "All my refusa-a stuff here, banan' stalk, spoil apple an' like dat. You take my push cart an' jus' walk along, oh, so easy, an' drop him in water off the wharf. Only four, fi', six load, an' I give-a you—see!" lifting the runt bananas so that the best cluster should show just above the edge of the stand, "one whole bunch banan'. You look-a hun-gree, an' dis make food for three, four day—one whole week." The corners of his eyes took in the woman, whose bit of shawl had suddenly dropped, showing a pretty, pinched face that expressed a pitiful mingling of hunger and longing. Even the man's eyes narrowed and gleamed a little at the sight of the fruit. For two whole days no tramp had dared to beg in the city. "Food for one long week, for two peoples," Petro added, convincingly.

"Yes, yes, yes," the woman broke in sharply, "you must, Tony. I'll help you."

"All right," lazily, "but you needn't help. I guess I can manage it. Where's your cart, boss?"

An hour later the last load had been taken and dumped into the harbor, and Tony was back for his bananas. But as the misshapen bunch with its decayed cluster was handed out his face wrinkled doubtfully.

"Shrunk some, ain't it, boss?" he asked, suspiciously, "an' gettin' gray fast? But never mind, though," his voice suddenly changing as he got a whiff of the fragrance. "I guess we can eat even the stalk just now. Here, give it to me, quick! We'll take it down to one o' the wharves where we can eat sort o' quiet like."

But before they reached the first corner there came the sound of slow, measured steps, which to their practiced ears was unmistakable. A policeman was approaching, and in another minute would swing round upon their street. Beside them was a narrow alley leading to the back entrance of a house, and the gate was unfastened. Tony's movements were sluggish only on unimportant occasions. When the policeman turned the corner they were crouching in the alley behind an ash barrel, scarcely daring to breathe.

Not until the measured steps had gone beyond hearing did they venture out. Tony was breathing heavily.

"I can't stand this much longer, Pina," he gasped. "Seven watchdogs this day have we dodged, and by a hair's breadth. If we're caught it'll be a month, maybe two, maybe six, and with hard work, for the city, too. If it keeps on like this I'll be tempted to go to work for myself."

"Yes," the woman acquiesced, "better work for self than for city."

They had made but a few blocks toward the wharves when Tony's restless eyes caught sight of another policeman rounding a corner ahead, only one block away. And, worse yet, he turned in their direction. There was no alley near, no side street, no open doorway into which they could dodge—nothing but a garbage barrel waiting for the street cleaners, with a board leaning against it. Tony's eyes made one comprehensive sweep, and then stopped at the barrel.

"Quick, Pina. Quick! Quick!" he whispered. "Drop down your skirt, the under red one. I want it."

In an instant he had swung the board across the barrel, caught the torn red skirt which Seppina handed him, and draped it dexterously so that both the board and barrel were concealed and the folds covered their own rents. It was an ideal stand of the small, Italian type, with its covering of dirty, gray-colored cloth.

Now, help break up the bananas, Pina," he whispered, briskly, "in one-two, an' three, an' make 'em spread over the stand. We're sellin' fruit, you know."

The policeman was not yet half up the block. When he drew near Tony was shouting, cheerily: "Bananas here; bananas, only—two—cents apiece!"

The policeman looked at them rather sharply, Tony thought, though he passed on without saying anything. But as soon as he reached the next block Tony began to gather up the fruit.

"We've got to get away from here, quick," he ejaculated. "That feller's comin' back in a few minutes to ask for our stand license. I seen it in his eyes. An' it'll be worse for us than just bein' tramps. I guess we'd better be leavin' the city, though I hate to, it's such a nice place. I wanted to hang out here all winter."

"How much for your bananas?" came a voice from above. Tony started and looked up. A woman was leaning from a window.

"Why, I—I—two cents," he stammered.

"I know—I heard that. I mean for the lot?"

Tony glanced dubiously at his fruit.

"There's 39," he said, slowly; "but some's sp'iled. I guess 50 cents."

"Very well. I'll take them. Hand them in at the door. Here's your money," and a coin rattled on the pavement at Tony's feet.

He had not thought of selling any bananas—had not wanted to, in fact. But there was no help for it now. A few minutes later he was hurrying down the sidewalk with Seppina, the 50 cents clutched in his fingers.

"S'pose we go straight an' blow this into a grub house?" he said.

But Seppina was looking thoughtful.

"Why not go and buy bananas?" she suggested. "I've seen great, big bunches sold at the wharves for less than 50 cents."

Tony stopped suddenly, then slapped his thighs. The suggestion had carried his quick mind to a great thought.

"The very thing!" he cried; "an' sell 'em, too. I hate work much as anybody in this world; but we've got to do something, with the watchdogs swoopin' down on us, an' banana sellin' is almost as easy as trampin', I guess. Only we've got to go safe. You know that house where they offered us work t'other day, an' we said we wa'n't in the workin' business? Well, we'll go back there. You can cook for a week—you're pretty good at it,—an' I'll saw their wood. A week'll give us money 'nough to buy a reg'lar straight out license, so we can snap our fingers at the watchdogs, an' we'll have some for a few bunches o' bananas. The very thing. What d' you say?"

"The very thing," Seppina repeated, her eyes bright.

HAVOC WROUGHT BY TORNADO.

FOUR LIVES LOST AND MANY INJURED AT STOCKTON, N. Y.

Storm Hit a Crowd of Picnickers in Grove — Trees Uprooted and Buildings Blown Down and Unroofed.

Jamestown, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Four persons lost their lives and several others were injured in a tornado that swept through Chautauqua county yesterday.

Parkhurst's grove, where the Stockton town picnic was being held, was directly in the path of the storm. Five thousand people were on the grounds when a terrific wind storm swept through the place. The dead:

Mrs. Austin E. Pierce, of Fredonia.
Miss Ina Scott, of Shumla.
Orin Dalrymple, 66 years old.
Unidentified child.

The most seriously injured:

Mrs. Orin Dalrymple, of Shumla, will probably die.
Arthur Bills, of Portland.

The storm came up suddenly. Trees in the grove were struck by lightning, many of them were blown down and the rain fell in torrents. The people who took refuge under the trees at the first sign of the storm were caught by the falling branches and injured. Many horses were killed in the same manner. Some of the animals stampeded, trampling upon the injured people lying upon the ground.

Some of the buildings in the vicinity were blown down and others were unroofed. Hundreds of forest and fruit trees were torn up and corn and oats fields were laid waste, entailing a loss of thousands of dollars.

At the assembly grounds at Chautauqua many trees were uprooted and a portion of the fence around the grounds was demolished. The men's club house was badly damaged.

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY.

Warrants for 30 Prominent Men of the Cripple Creek District Have Been Sworn Out.

Cripple Creek, Col., Aug. 26.—Capiases were placed in the hands of Sheriff Bell yesterday afternoon for 28 prominent citizens of the Cripple Creek district against whom informations have been filed in the district court by Deputy District Attorney C. C. Butler. The charges are conspiracy and assault to kill, conspiracy and false imprisonment and conspiracy, malicious mischief and larceny in connection with the deportations last Saturday. Among the alleged leaders of the mob for whom capiases were issued are:

Nelson Franklin, former mayor of Victor.
E. C. Newcomb, cashier of the First national bank.
Henry Dahl, manager of the Ophir mine.
A. E. Carleton, president of the First national bank.
Harry Waters, Frank Vanneck, Charles Gunn and E. K. Young, deputy sheriffs.
A. C. Cole, formerly secretary of the Citizens' Alliance at Victor.
Daniel McCarthy, superintendent of the Granite mine.
A. P. Hohlman, superintendent of the Golden Cycle mine.
William Carruthers, solicitor for the Colorado & Southwestern railroad.
Louis Henry, superintendent of the Rose Maud mine.
John Balzell, superintendent of the Sedan Mining Co.
William Bainbridge, superintendent of the El Paso mine.

DYNAMITE CAPS EXPLODED.

A Panic in the Betting Ring at Hawthorne Race Track—An Attempt to Rob a Bookmaker.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—By the explosion of some dynamite caps and in the panic that followed it, three persons were injured Thursday afternoon at the Hawthorne race track. It is supposed that the caps were thrown on the floor of the betting ring with the idea of creating a panic, during which the cash boxes of the bookmakers might be robbed. An attempt was made to rob one bookmaker, but it failed.

The first explosion was caused by Williams, who, while walking through the east side of the ring, stepped on a cap. It exploded, tearing off his shoe and lacerating his foot severely. He fell to the floor with a cry, and instantly there was a shout that an insane man was discharging his revolver at random. Immediately there was a wild panic, and while the bookmakers, seizing their cash boxes, bent low in their booths the crowds rushed across to the south side of the ring in the effort to escape. Just as the throng reached this side of the ring somebody trod on another cap and the crowd tore back to the place where it had started.

McGill was knocked down durin this rush and was trampled upon.

A third explosion took place some minutes after the panic had been allayed. It occurred just beneath a chair on which Bruno was sitting, threw him to the floor and, a portion of the cap striking his foot, tore it badly.

A Corporal Suicides.

St. Louis, Aug. 26.—Cristobal Salvator, a corporal in the Philippine constabulary encamped at the world's fair, committed suicide yesterday by shooting. He left a letter stating that ill health caused him to take his life.

Are on the Verge of Starvation.

Reno, Nev., Aug. 26.—Cloudbursts and washouts in Tonapah and along the lines of the Tonapah & Carson and Colorado railroads are the most disastrous in the history of those districts. People at Tonapah and Goldfields are on the verge of starvation. They are being temporarily relieved by the rushing in of supplies via Croon Springs, Silver Peak and Candelaria by wagon trains. But this is only temporary, and as over 5,000 people must be fed in the different camps, extraordinary measures must be taken for their relief.

A CLEAR CUT VICTORY.

James Jeffries Won from Jack Monroe in the Second Round.

San Francisco, Aug. 27.—Like the veriest amateur in the prize ring, Jack Munroe, of Butte, Mont., went down and out before Champion James Jeffries last night in the second round. The man from the mining district made such an extremely sorry showing that the great throng in Mechanics' Pavilion roundly hooted him as he protested to Referee Graney against the decision that had been given in favor of Jeffries.

The miner was scared and awkward and Jeffries in the first round had him twice on the canvas taking the count.

Jeffries directed his bombardment against the stomach of his opponent and each shot was followed by a blow on the jaw that sent Munroe to his knees. Jeffries went back to his corner after the opening round with a sneer and a laugh on his swarthy face, while Munroe's seconds busied themselves with smelling salts and restoratives. When the two came together for the second round the laugh on the champion's visage changed to a look of determination that boded ill to the miner.

Forty-five seconds after the gong sounded Munroe was lying on the floor, a bloody, bruised mass of humanity with Jeffries standing over him, ready, if necessary, to put the quietus on the championship ambitions of his adversary. The miner was too dazed to rise to his feet and the timekeepers counted him out, but the husky man from southern California did not understand that the victory was already his, nor could Munroe realize that his pugilistic star had so early set and the two men, in a moment or two, were facing one another and Jeffries landed a terrific blow on the jaw of his staggering opponent.

It was at this time that Referee Graney came forward and ordered Jeffries away, telling him that the fight was ended in his favor.

From the time the bell rang for the commencement of the battle to the time that the count of ten had been uttered against Munroe, only four minutes and 45 seconds had elapsed.

TRADE BAROMETER.

Some Improvement Is Noted, but Labor Disputes are Still Numerous.

New York, Aug. 27.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Trade has improved somewhat, chiefly because of better crop prospects and the fact that last week's variations in prices of steel products failed to demoralize that industry. The industrial atmosphere is still disturbed by labor controversies, however, and it will be impossible to fully restore national prosperity until the proportion of voluntarily unemployed wage earners is greatly reduced. Dispatches from leading cities indicate irregular conditions, but there is increasing confidence in the future.

New business is reported in steel rails for both domestic and foreign account. Structural steel feels the effect of labor controversies in the building trades, but there is encouragement in large purchases for bridges and elevated roads. The pig iron outlook has been brightened by the restoration of several blast furnaces to the active list.

Instead of increased activity with the proximity of abundant raw material, the manufacture of cotton goods has experienced a further curtailment.

Failures this week numbered 205 in the United States, against 176 last year, and in Canada 30, compared with 33 a year ago.

KISER VS. OLDFIELD.

In a 15-Mile Automobile Race at Detroit Oldfield was Defeated.

Detroit, Aug. 27.—The contests between Barney Oldfield and Earl Kiser were the centers of interest at the first session of Detroit's fourth annual automobile meeting which began at the Grosse Point track yesterday. The much looked for record breaking failed to result from the competition, however, and the best time of the day for any mile was over three seconds slower than Kiser's 52 4-5.

The keenest fight of the day developed in the sixth event, a 15-mile open race, pronounced by automobilists the most thrilling contest of the year on any track. Of ten entries seven were scratched. Oldfield in his "Green Dragon" led Kiser a full half mile at the end of the fourth lap, Gorndt, the remaining starter, running a bad third. At the tenth mile Kiser had gained three-quarters of this distance when Oldfield spurted at a whirlwind pace, doing the next mile in 57 seconds. Kiser seemed to have speed in check and passed his rival at the stretch, winning by several lengths in 14:51 1-5.

Wounded by Bandits.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 27.—Dominico Mostello and Giuseppe Scirona are in a hospital at Sayre seriously wounded as the result of an attack by Italian bandits at Athens. It is probable the former will die. Some time ago Mostello informed the Lehigh Valley railroad detectives of the identity of the three members of the Mafia gang who held up a large number of Italians at Lake Carey and levied tribute on them. The members of the "Black Hand" were arrested, but it was impossible to convict them, as Mostello and all the other Italians were afraid to testify against them in open court. Soon afterwards two of the three men robbed Mostello of $100.

Winners of Prize Drill Contests.

St. Louis, Aug. 27.—After the grand review of the uniform rank, Knights of Maccabees, yesterday, competitive drill prizes were awarded. The first prize, a silver loving cup and $500, went to division No. 3, Toledo, O.; second prize, $300, United division No. 7, Auburn, N. Y.; third prize, $200, Celery City division No. 15, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Pasadena division No. 6, of Pasadena, Cal., won the long distance prize. The prize for the best battalion was won by the fire battalion of the Third regiment of Cleveland.

FRIENDS FOR A MINUTE.

Levy and Cohen Try to Make Up, But Soon Strike a Discordant Note.

Levy and Cohen came out of the synagogue on New Year's day. It was the day of atonement, of forgiving, of making up, relates the New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Levy approached Cohen and extended a great flat hand.

"Cohen," said he, "ve haf not shpoken for dvendy years. Come! Ve make fredts."

Cohen silently shook.

"Now, Cohen," continued the reconciliant, "ve go ofer to Bungleheim's unt haf a drink."

Arm in arm they crossed the street. Drinks were ordered and set before them.

Cohen, convinced at last of the sincerity of the other's advances, spoke for the first time.

"Levy," he said, "I am glad of it. I raise my glass to you, Levy. Vish me somedings!"

"Mit all my heart,' 'replied Levy, and raised his glass in turn. "Cohen, my dear frendt," said he, "I vish you shoost vat you vish me!"

The growing smile faded from Cohen's face and he set his glass down with a bang.

"Py Abraham!" he exclaimed. "Now you're shtarting it all over again!"

AGRICULTURAL HINTS.

A HOME-MADE IMPLEMENT.

Excellent for Smoothing Rough Fields, Scraping Roads and Other Like Purposes.

I have always wanted some sort of a tool that could be used to joint and smooth up a plowed field, scrape a rough road in the spring and meet other like demands; but the plank "granger," the flat log with a cutting edge and like devices never quite filled the bill, and they in some way all went into innocuous desuetude. It occurred to me that a big iron ring with some sort of an inside cutting attachment would be the thing. A bar of steel four inches wide and one-half inch thick and long enough to make a five and one-half foot hoop was procured. Another bar of the same size was made into a triangle, just a fit, and put inside the hoop and riveted at the angles. Ring hooks were put into the outer rim, to which a bale was fastened, and then I had a most complete tool. The cost was $5, and we have found it of the greatest use. As a road smoother it is all that can be desired. Every inch of its 33 feet of under edge is either cutting, pushing or scraping back to the center, filling as well as leveling, and a good team will pull it all day. For road smoothing—not scraping—it equals a big machine. I is well to have a plank fitted on top so that in extreme cases the driver may add his weight and do a little more complete work.—John Gould, in N. Y. Tribune-Farmer.

AN IMPROVISED LEVELER.

TWO EFFECTS OF CLOVER.

The Crop Acts Either as a Collector of Nitrogen or as a Sub-Earth Cultivator.

The work of clover is not always to get nitrogen from the air. There are some soils that are rich enough in nitrogen and yet need the presence of the legumes. In a visit to Antioch, Ill., the writer observed that the soil is only a little acidy, and that it is also rich in nitrogen. Clover is being grown, but its work of soil renovation is different from that it has to perform on some other soils, especially those that are deficient in nitrogen. Here the roots go deep into the soil and help to improve the physical condition of the soil. It taps the stores of potassium and phosphorus that are hidden away in the depths of the earth and brings them to the upper layers of soil, where they will be within the reach of the plants that do not have the deep root systems that clover and alfalfa have.

The clovers will be found to be useful on almost all soils where they will grow, either as collectors of nitrogen or as subearth cultivators. They send their roots deep into the soil and tunnel in every direction. The roots in time die, leaving a multitude of passages in the soil. These act as drains and as air channels, by which the soil is more fully aerated. As a nitrogen gatherer the clover is of great use on millions of acres of our lands from which the nitrogen has been exhausted, and on millions of other acres it acts as a carrier of fertility from the cellars to the upper storage rooms of the soil.—Farmers' Review.

New Potato from Uraguay.

Prof. Heckel, of Marseilles, France, discovered a few years ago, along the banks of the River Mercedes, Uruguay, a new tubercle, which seems to put the common white potato in the background, if reports are true. This wonderful potato need be planted but once, as new tubercles and stems to branch off in every direction all the year, and after one planting the vegetable perpetuates itself from the broken roots left in the soil. The flowers are abundant, and very odorous, and a perfume resembling jasmine has already been manufactured from them Enormous production, absolute immunity from common potato diseases, delicious flavor and easy culture are some of the features already claimed for this new discovery.

A Crop of Antique Corn.

Several years ago, in exploring an Indian mound in the southwest part of Missouri, a quantity of corn was found. Some of this corn was planted, and, to the surprise of all, it germinated and matured. How long it had lain in the mound, on which large trees were growing, no one can conjecture—probably several hundred years. Last fall a citizen of Jamesport, Mo., secured a handful of this corn and now has a dozen hills of it growing in his garden. The grains are about the usual size of field corn, but are of a deep brown, mottled with yellow.

RATTLERS MILKED THE COW.

Vermont Farmer Makes a Discovery Which Surprised Him and His Neighbors as Well.

Simeon Johnson, a farmer of Tyson, Vt., made a discovery recently which so surprised him that he has spread the marvelous tale from one end of the county to the other.

For several months Sim has known that some one or something has been stealing milk from his pet Jersey cow. His good wife told him that the Jersey had simply dried up and that he was "afflicted with a spell of imagination." Sim, however, declared that he knew that he knew, and sat up nights to discover the thief. But he saw no invaders, and the more sleep he lost the madder he got.

The Jersey was one of a herd of 20, and as her milk was richer than that of the others the supply was saved for family use. She was quartered in a stall at the end of the cow stable and until three months ago gave four quarts morning and night. Then she suddenly cut down her morning quota to little or nothing. Sim would have agreed with his wife if Bess hadn't furnished the usual amount at night and seemed ravenously hungry.

It made no difference whether Sim watched or not; the milk was always gone in the morning, although it was several times established that at midnight the supply was normal. It was this fact more than anything else that bothered Sim and gave him creepy and uncanny sensations when he kept his vigils by the dim, uncertain light of an old kerosene lantern. He couldn't figure out why Bess should not give milk in the morning when there was plenty at midnight, or why she should be well supplied at night and not at the early milking.

"I don't believe there is anything milkin' that cow," said Mrs. Johnson one day recently, "but if there is it crawls, and you won't catch it unless you clean out the bedding so you can see the stall floor."

Sim allowed there might be something in this, and so he swept out the stall and made Bess lie on the planks instead of on a fine bed of clean straw. About nine o'clock he got his lantern and once more took up his post of vigil. He had begun to doze when he heard Bess shift her position, and he held up the light. He was just in time to see a long, glistening, sinuous form slip from under the side of the reclining cow and glide down a rat-hole in the corner of the stall. At the same time he heard a familiar sound that caused his hair to stand on end.

"Rattlesnakes," he gurgled, and grabbed a pitchfork.

Bess jumped to her feet and mooed contentedly as the farmer advanced cautiously and began a careful investigation. There was but one rat-hole. This led to a pile of rocks under the barn, and Sim retired to the house. In the morning, with the help of the hired man, the rocks were removed, and five rattlers, each three times its natural size, were killed. According to the number of rattles, all but one was young, but exceedingly large and fat.—N. Y. World.

CALF FEEDING MADE EASY.

A Device Which Enabled Its Inventor to Do This Work Without Soiling His Clothes.

You have probably fallen often from grace in feeding that irrepressible calf, either with the spume or froth with which he lathered your face or ruined a good suit of clothes. I have devised a little plan which enables me to feed a calf and still remain out of his reach. Cut a hole in the wall between the calf pen and feeding alley. Build a braced shelf, as shown in the cut. Hinge one edge of it to one side of the opening, as shown at a. This shelf may be swung in to the feeding alley and the bucket placed on the shelf, secured by rope and swung out into the calf pen, where it may be readily fastened with a hook. When pail is removed a button prevents the calf from getting his head out through the opening.—R. M. Winthrop, in Farm and Home.

STOCK AND DAIRY NOTES.

For hog pastures woven wire is the best fencing material.

For the first few days newly purchased hogs should be fed lightly.

No man should attempt to raise hogs without adequate fencing of yards and pastures.

The portable hog house is coming into very general favor, especially in disease infested districts.

Sweet cream butter is coming much into use in this country. This kind of butter is not made, as might be supposed from the name, from cream from sweet milk, but is generally made of ripened cream. It is called sweet because it is not salted.

A cow must be a very poor milker not to respond to good feed and good care. Good feeding can greatly increase the milk-producing powers of the cows we have, but only to the limit of their natural capacity. Many of our cows are being fed so unscientifically that they have never been brought up to their full capacity.—Farmers' Review.

When Milk Cans Get Rusty.

Don't keep throwing away money patching rusty milk-cans, when at best they will last but a little longer; such a practice is decidedly disastrous to the quality of the milk. Throw them away and get some good, new cans, well tinned. Always empty them as soon as they return from the creamery; wipe dry after washing and give them a daily sun bath. Given this treatment, a good can ought to last seven or eight years.—Midland Farmer.

Mrs. Rosa Adams, niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C. S. A., wants every woman to know of the wonders accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot tell you with pen and ink what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me, suffering from the ills peculiar to the sex, extreme lassitude and that all-gone feeling. I would rise from my bed in the morning feeling more tired than when I went to bed, but before I had used two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I began to feel the buoyancy of my younger days returning, became regular, could do more work and not feel tired than I had ever been able to do before, so I continued to use it until I was restored to perfect health. It is indeed a boon to sick women and I heartily recommend it. Yours very truly, MRS. ROSA ADAMS, 819 12th St., Louisville, Ky."

Any women who are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, general debility, and nervous prostration, should know there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No other medicine for women has received such wide-spread and unqualified indorsement. No other medicine has such a record of female cures.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am very pleased to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for womb and ovarian difficulties from which I have been a sufferer for years. It was the only medicine which was at all beneficial, and within a week after I started to use it, there was a great change in my feelings and looks. I used it for a little over three months, and at the end of that time I suffered no pain at the menstrual period, nor was I troubled with those distressing pains which compelled me to go to bed, and I have not had a headache since. This is nearly a year ago. I always keep a bottle on hand, and take a few doses every week, for I find that it tones up the system and keeps me feeling strong, and I never have that tired out feeling any more.

"I certainly think that every woman ought to try this grand medicine, for it would prove its worth. Yours very truly, MISS ELSIE DANFORTH, 203 De Soto St., Memphis, Tenn."

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN.

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham. She will understand your case perfectly, and will treat you with kindness. Her advice is free, and the address is Lynn, Mass. No woman ever regretted having written her, and she has helped thousands.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

Taking a Name.

"It's all nonsense about a man's being able to make a name for himself. Only a woman can do that."

"How do you make that out?"

"She can select for husband a man whose name she fancies."—Town Topics.

Womanly Health, Strength and Beauty

Strength and beauty in woman depend entirely upon her health. A woman cannot look her best if suffering from one or more of the many ailments peculiar to her sex. These ailments invariably cause, sooner or later, the loss of her symmetry of form and freshness of complexion.

AUNT DINAH'S OLD VIRGINIA

Herb Tea

Makes Strong and Beautiful Women.

It is a most pleasant and effective remedy for the troubles which cause so much suffering among women the world over. It relieves immediately and eventually cures all cases of disordered menstruation, female weakness, prolapsus, chronic constipation, sick head ache, nervousness and sleeplessness. These are the ailments which deprive a woman of her youth and beauty and make her old before her time. The use of the Herb Tea will enable her to retain these qualities. It clears the complexion and improves the form. A cupful at bed time will give a woman health and strength.

Chicago, April 19, 1903.

Hamlins Wizard Oil Co., Chicago, Ill.:
Gentlemen:—My wife had been suffering with female weakness and extreme nervousness which latter the physician who has been attending her for a long time attributed to her being unable to sleep. After tossing about all night she would invariably rise in the morning with a terrible headache. The doctor seemed to be able to do nothing for her and she was constantly getting worse. She decided to try your Herb Tea and drank a cupful before retiring. In the morning she arose after a good night's rest and without a headache for the first time in months. She has continued taking it during the past three months and has forgotten what a sleepless night means. She is feeling splendid and every one remarks how well she is looking. Her complexion is as clear as a young girl's and her figure has improved wonderfully. Yours truly,

What is Life.

In the last alalysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse the law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in Constipation, Headache or Liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly re-adjusts this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c at L. Taggart's Drug Store.

A Wonderful Saving.

The largest Methodist Church in Georgia, calculated to use over one hundred gallons of the usual kind of mixed paint in painting their church.

They used only 32 gallons of the Longman & Martinez Paint with 24 gallons of linseed oil. Actual cost of paint made was less than $1.20 per gallon.

Saved over eighty ($80.00) dollars in paint, and got a big donation besides.

EVERY CHURCH will be given a liberal quantity whenever they paint.

Many houses are well painted with four gallons of L. & M., and three gallons of linseed oil mixed therewith.

In Praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"Allow me to give you a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. John Hamlett, of Eagle Pass, Texas. "I suffured one week with bowel trouble and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend, Mr. C. Johnson, a merchant here, advised me to take this remedy. After taking one dose I felt greatly relieved and when I had taken the third dose was entirely cured. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for putting this great remedy in the hands of mankind." For sale by Jno. E. Smith, Sterling Run.

A Power For Good.

The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Philpot, of Albany, Ga., says: "During a bilious attack I took one. Small as it was it did me more good than calomel, blue mass or any other pill I ever took and at the same time the effect was pleasant. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." Sold by R. C. Emergency Medicines.

It is a good convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in cases of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite, if not a household necessity is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn it allays the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflamation sets in, which insures a quick recovery. For sale by L. Taggart.

Peculiarity About Insurance.

When insurance companies grant insurance on life, they are particular to have the person examined by a doctor to ascertain if he is in sound health. They are most particular about the analysis of the urine for the diseases of the kidneys are the most fatal and so many people have diseaaed kidneys without knowing it. If there are any symptoms they are usually (even by doctors) attributed to some other cause. Thompson's Barosma is the safest remedy to take for it will do good whether you have kidney trouble or not. Thompson's Barosma gives rest to the nerves. For sale by R. C. Dodson.
